Thinking Is Important. Value For Value. Hope For Lindy. Going After Business.

SEVERAL hundred young Columbian students went on strike yesterday because the editor of the paper was exposed. Five young men and women carried signs reading "Liberate Press," "A Liberal University." One young gentleman carried a sign that read "Think Out Loud." Another thought part of his business. The leaders in the strike.

The difficulty is that there is a good deal of truth in what they say, very much.

THEIR BUSINESS IS A GOOD DEAL OF IT. They are in the business of thinking. They get to say anything of adding a hundred words to the value of what they say. The best bargain in the world is exceptional, no matter what it costs.

They are continuing the Lindbergh baby. More encouraging, there is nothing definite, but hopeful rumors are denied. Those that should

Gen. R. P. Clark Dies At Vancouver

Canadian Press

VANCOUVER, April 8.—General R. P. Clark, one of British Columbia's outstanding political leaders, died yesterday at his home in Vancouver, and many prominent leaders in Pacific Coast financial circles, died in hospital shortly before noon today.

He was born in London, Eng., in 1876, and came to Canada as a young man, and went through the Klondike gold rush.

HERE'S HOPING

The Provincial Government must not borrow more than $15,000,000 by the sale of savings certificates, nor pay more than five per cent for the money. These new restrictions are imposed by an amendment to the act that was adopted by the legislature on Tuesday.

The restrictions of course only hold for a year, and the limit may be doubled or abolished entirely when another session is held. Still, there is room for hope that light is dawning in the dark places. Can it be that a provincial legislature has discovered there is a limit beyond which it is not safe to pile up public debt?

NEGLECTING INTER-PROVINCIAL TRADE

The western air mail service cancelled, two of the mail planes promptly hopped from Lethbridge to Vancouver in search of passengers, thereby demonstrating again that an air mail service could be maintained across the mountains, and clear across Canada, so far as weather and physical conditions are concerned.

A despatch the other day conveyed the news that air mail is still being maintained between Canadian cities and points in the United States. At the time when it is being started, that Canada's internal traffic should be encouraged and developed to offset the slump abroad, it would appear to be better business to spend public money in maintaining a trans-Canada air mail than in connecting services to promote trade with the United States at the expense of inter-provincial trade.

MINIMIZING THE LOSS

One part of the speech of the Minister of Finance from which Canadians generally will, and should, draw genuine satisfaction is the announcement as to how the country has fared in meeting its foreign commitments with the Canadian dollar away below par.

Between the first of October and the end of March, the Dominion provinces, municipalities, and semi-public bodies in Canada had debts, payments falling due abroad which amounted to $72,000,000, plus interest charges of $30,000,000, the Dominion having been necessary for the maturing of its obligations.

That was done. Of the principal payments due, $39,000,000 were paid, and the remaining $33,000,000, in instalments, which will give opportunity to make provision for future payment. The interest charges were likewise paid in full.

Fortunately, not all this money was owing in the United States. London held back the exchange paper. Fortunately, also, the British pound has come down farther than the Canadian dollar, leaving a balance on exchange in our favor.

By buying gold to meet New York's claims, and taking advantage of the exchange rate, the Dominion has succeeded in making the payment of $119,000,000 of interest and principal payments abroad, with a net loss on principal exchange and discount for the year of only $831,000.

Again, the exchange with Canadian producers would secure if Canada went off the gold standard, is to be placed the consideration that, had we been admittedly off that standard, it would have cost us more to buy Canadian products than this to square up our outside commitments. The dollar would in that case have slumped farther than the pound, and the exchange would have been against us at London as it was and is at New York.

THE "CASH DOWN" POLICY

On paper the "balanced" Dominion budget is balanced only approximately, with a pretty generous interpretation of that term. There was for the year past a deficit of $51,000,000 on the ordinary expenses of government. Against this, new taxation is imposed, calculated to bring in $55,000,000 of new revenue. On ordinary account therefore the budget is rather more than "balanced".

But there was a further expenditure on extraordinary account, mainly for unemployment and farm relief, of $55,000,000. Disregarding capital expenditures, this did not exceed the income by $106,000,000. Adding the new taxation and the reduction

THE TRANS-CANADA TELEPHONE SYSTEM

By the Trans-Canada Telephone System: The era of Canadian telephone communication has come. The Canadian telephone network goes into operation from Halifax to Vancouver, long distance telephone connections over Canadian territory, thus avoiding the necessity of connecting with the United States and giving to Canadians swift, economical long distance facilities second to none.

This great event marks a new page in Canadian history, marking the birth of the Canadian telephone system, a partnership of Canadian telephone companies linked up by mutual agreements to work for the telephone betterment of all citizens of Canada, and all citizen subscribers. Commencing ten years ago, the Canadian telephone system in its early days of development, has now grown to over 4,000 miles of territory.

Today the immense undertaking of the Canadian telephone system, from Halifax to Vancouver, able to carry more messages, more quickly, and more inexpensively than was ever possible before, enabling Canadians to use long distance facilities more rapidly and more conveniently than hitherto.

WHERE THE BENEFITS?

By the Prime Minister, as well as the Prime Minister's assessors, as he did in the House of Commons last Monday, the Canadian telephone system, over the past two years have brought benefits to Canada, and the people of Canada, who are the ones who benefit, the report of his statement. The clouds which are gathering, however, are the clouds of suspicion, and the obscurity of the matter seems to grow darker.

In the most recent issue, can there be any comprehension of what is going on?

Conditions, as prime Minister Mr. Mackenzie King has said, are changing. The policy of extreme parsimony, as far as the telephone system is concerned, and when Canada adopted that policy in 1930, this country, in the opinion of the Canadian telephone association, was the greatest factor in the great and righteous changes to which Mr. Bennett refers when he says that the influence of Canadian influence in Canada is deeply involved in the world crisis, and is responsible for the present condition.

As nearly as I can understand, the prime Minister's policies have brought benefits to industry, have helped to keep the telephone system in the country, and to keep up the standard of living by excluding low-grade foreign goods, and by maintaining good faith, although it is impossible to say exactly what has been done.

"Any comon man," the Prime Minister asked, "wouldn't buy a better way of getting along with the telephone company than by the agency of a tariff commission." That is a question, and took look at what is being done to the resources of the country.

Judging Mutton
Is Real Task for The Housewife

Canadians Are Learning to Serve Favorite English
Dish

By SISTER MARY

Although the meat of sheep in England, commonly known as mutton, is steadily gaining in favor, it is usually high in price and not practicable for everyday family meals. Consequently, many housewives are turning to mutton as a meat that is both very good and yet provides a change for a pleasant change.

Carefully prepared and cooked mutton is delicious. It can be broiled, flavored then lamb, but tender and finely grained in texture. Since it is not a meat that is easily digested, it is excellent for family meals. The fat content of mutton is higher than people usually care to eat and careful trimming is essential.

The meat is the same as of lamb. The leg, the shoulder and the breast are all good for roasting, while the neck, the shoulder, or pork-fried or braised. The neck is excellent for soup, as the meat of the mutton is the entire cut off before the animal is divided, and of course the neck is the best part. This cut is prepared at market with some of the bones removed and the flank removed. The shoulder is cut into steaks and tied in place. The kidneys are left on the shoulder side and are roasted with the shoulder.

HOW TO JUDGE MUTTON

Mutton of good quality is fine grain, firm, with a pinkish color, and fat red with the fat white, hard and fatty. Mutton is sure to be good if the fat is white, and the meat is firm to remove any pink skin or the bone. Skin after cooking, because both fat and meat are good, is the strongest flavor of mutton.

It should also be remembered that mutton is more easily digested than most meats, and should therefore be protected from them with special care.

NEW-OLD HATS:

Nothing changes a woman so much as her hair. If you can't afford new hats, buy old ones. You can make what you have. If it is somewhat tattered, green and white, make a new velvet for a new little wrap and cover it with a piece of green and white material. You can even re-dye your supports.

READY FOR THE PARTY

Party dresses can get a new lease on life by the addition of crushed green and white material to them. Make a triangle of the same velvet for a new little wrap and cover it with a piece of green and white material. You can even re-dye your supports.

GOLDFISH

Women over 80 per cent of all goldfish die, according to statistics of the largest mail order house. In addition, the average cost of a goldfish tank in this house brings the cost of return on investment of any equal amount of space in the whole concern.

OLD PEOPLE AND CARELESSNESS

PEAR DOROTHY DIX:—Why is it that so many old people are so careless about little persons? So many of them are very "imperious abusives," to quote the old Gilbert and Sullivan operas, and they will wear their clothes until they have fallen off them. They are also indifferent to take care of old things that are very interesting to their children. What can we do to change them?

ANSWER:
Old people are not in their wits and have no sense. Also they are very senile and resent any criticism because, carry on, they are not able to understand the logic of the world. Old people, to the nth degree, and old people, just because they are old, feel that they are the best and that they are right in point of view and way of doing things is the only one.

Of course, the reason that they get care-free is that these people is it more difficult for them to do the little things that it is necessary to do to be well dressed and to keep themselves clean. They don't think and they do not see the spots and wrinkles in their skin which are so objectionable to others. Likewise, penitentiaries are a source of age, and many old people are not willing to spend money for the money that is necessary to buy good clothes.

Yet, as a matter of fact, it is much more important for old people to keep themselves clean and to be in good shape, because they have no longer the beauty of youth, and their attractiveness depends more upon their clothes. When they do this, great is their reward. We must give this a new idea, and let old people know that it is too sensible to be responsible, old men and women, to be in good shape, to help improve themselves, and make them act more pleasant and agreeable and easier to live with for those who have to live with them.

Two Girls Equal Seven Police in Handling Robber

CHICAGO, April 8—On form, two slender girls from Kentucky, who live there alone, have been making headlines.

JANE WEAVER, 24, and Mrs. Jeanette Stahl, 24, who came here four years ago from Danville, Ky., arrived at 10:30 P.M. yesterday night at their south side garage where Jameson Raugh, 18, a hussy boy from Kentucky, had demanded their money. Mrs. Stahl, who was alone, went to the door and found her neighbor, attracted by screams for help, called the police. Two sergeants from the 10th Precinct, who met in, rushed down the alley and found the young women sitting on Raugh, who was leaning against a wall in the rear. Raugh, who was nervous, started a rally. It took the police perhaps five minutes to subdue him and DeSoto Sam's Barber suffered a fractured left finger in the melee.

An unidentified pickup lost $5 cents Tuesday in his attempt to hold up D. R. Jones, 21, a telephone and telegraph service station at Wheatridge, according to a report to Sheriff James Boggs of Denver.

The hold-up was held up purchased two gallons of gasoline and a quart of oil. The robber, who was wearing a mask, gave Eclipse a dollar bill and as the latter was about to leave the regular oil holdup displayed a revolver.

"Give me all your money," the robber said.

When Holmes returned the attack was over. The two girls, who were members of the same station, then turned him into his automobile, leaving his 45 cents.

"A premeditated robbery for me," Holmes told the sheriff.

This Dog's Bite Was Far Worse Than His Bark

BOSTON, April 8—Dog lovers and animal lovers of persons known by dog owners were shocked to learn that the case of John Fahey vs. Isaac Rosenblatt, 21, was decided in favor of the dog.

The would-be hold-up purchased two gallons of gasoline and a quart of oil. The robber, who was wearing a mask, gave Eclipse a dollar bill and as the latter was about to leave the regular oil holdup displayed a revolver.

"Give me all your money," the robber said.

When Holmes returned the attack was over. The two girls, who were members of the same station, then turned him into his automobile, leaving his 45 cents.

"A premeditated robbery for me," Holmes told the sheriff.

Waitress Inherits $75,000 Fortune

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, April 8—Young Dorothy Stahl, 21, died in the life of Mr. and Mrs. Stahl.

In the morning she was a $12-a-week waitress; in the evening she was a $20-a-week dancer.

In the afternoon she was single again and the possessess of news that she had inherited $75,000 from the estate of her aunt, Mrs. Daisy Duke, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Stahl, whose parents live in Bowling Green, Ky., was awarded the entire sum of $75,000, which she got on the ground he deserved her three years ago when he went to Missouri.

Flames Seal Victim Suspended On Nail

CHICAGO, April 8—The Empire Packing company plant situated on the south side of the city, burst into flames to the window for a mighty leap into the sets of firemen four floors up.

A nail in the window still hooked the man's body, and he was suspended by the flames. He was severely burned, but was able to reach him. Damage to the plant was estimated at $30,000.

Paris Lawyers Mend Roads, Dodge Tax

WIELD PICKS AND SHOVELS ON HIGHWAYS

PARIS, April 8—There were gun scenes on the highways of Montmartre, the hilltop district of Paris, when the younger members of the Municipal bar went forth armed with pick axes and shovels and worked as ordinary road-menders.

Their purpose was to protest against paying local rates, which they hope to be excessive, in exercising the right of eminent domain. The tax right inherited from feudal times is certain to come in kind instead of in cash.

This novel protest against extraordinary taxation has become a national affair. The association of young lawyers in the city had addressed a letter to the Minister of Finance, asking what would be expected of them if they did not obey. It was pointed out, only furnished the protestant gentry were by its illustrious members.

The young lawyers, under these instructions, provided themselves with pick axes and shovels, and reported for duty early in the morning and leather garters, and with these they marched to the Palais du Jour.

Big Four Amateur Baseball League Organizes for Coming Summer

SAME CLUBS
TO OPERATE
THIS SEASON

Eddie Beckwith is Again
Elected President of Organization

Cleaning the decks for another season of chasing the horse hide, the Big Four Baseball League had their organization meeting last night in the National Hotel, which was well attended by officials, team representatives and many new players desiring to join the teams for the coming campaign.

Few were represented, namely: Riverview, last year's champion, C.W.A., Alberta; and Athabasca. All four of the above clubs were entered in the Big Four race last year.

Competitors from all over involving the various plans and ideas to better the standard of ball in the amateur game, and finally it was adopted that the provincial playoff series take place at the end of the play season, rather than in the middle of the season.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Last year's officers were unimpeachable to office with the following officials in charge of the Big Four:

President, Edward Weeks;

Vice-president, Arthur Sketch;

Secretary, Charles Lewis;

Treasurer, Charles Lewis.

Managerial charges will be found in two Alberta cities. C.W.A. will be out in the Alberta Hotel and J. Doolan will be out in the St. Albert hotel. Eddie Weeks will be in command for Riverview while George Anderson will again handle C.N.C. Orlans.

Meetings will be held at an earlier date than last year and thus eliminate a hurried play-off and give the players more time of playing when daylight is shortened considerably towards the end of the summer months.

ANOTHER MEETING

The next meeting of the Big Four League will be held on April 21, in the National Hotel, when the arranging of the play-offs will be decided upon and completed prior to the opening of the season.

DRUMHILL, April 8—At the annual meeting of the Red Deer Valley Hockey League, which includes interdenominational and amateur indoor ice hockey throughout the valley, held Thursday night at the White Horse Inn, the following officers were elected: President: Dr. Wm. G. C. McNeely, Drumhiller; Vice-president, Mr. H. L. Cameron, East Coulee; W. S. Sykes, Midlandview; Edward McNeil, Drumhiller; Secretary, Mr. D. D. Wilson; George Gouge, Drumhiller; F. H. King, Drumhiller.

Reports showed that the Valley had been represented in the Alberta Amateur and Intermediate tournaments and in the Intermediate, Junior and Novice sections, and that the Valley had made a good showing against the various Calgary teams. The Calgary Juniors were the best team, followed by the junior bunch after a hard fought campaign, won the provincial championship, while the Novice Shamrocks, who were the survivors of the various juvenile teams, were the juveniles as would be expected as the other clubs that had to take up the extra cost of travel to the tournaments were embroiled in the pressure of the play-offs and the meetings next season, and there were no guarantees that the rest of the regular official who had been instrumental in the league during its first year of operation.

Deprive Foreman
Of British Title

EDMONTON, April 8—The British Boxing Board of Control, Thursday, deprived Alf Foreman, Montreal fighter, of his British title because he had given up his right to compete in Great Britain for failure to comply with its regulations.

The board said that it had chosen Johnny Cuthbert and Ned Tarleton, to contend for the vacant title.

Massey-Harris Takes Verdict to Enter Title
Playoff

The final for the second half of the Commercial 10 pan baseball league was decided yesterday at the Edmonton Civic Auditorium where Massey-Harris defeated Sunbeam 8-7.

Reports showed that the Valley had been represented in the Alberta Amateur and Intermediate tournaments and in the Intermediate, Junior and Novice sections, and that the Valley had made a good showing against the various Calgary teams. The Calgary Juniors were the best team, followed by the junior bunch after a hard fought campaign, won the provincial championship, while the Novice Shamrocks, who were the survivors of the various juvenile teams, were the juveniles as would be expected as the other clubs that had to take up the extra cost of travel to the tournaments were embroiled in the pressure of the play-offs and the meetings next season, and there were no guarantees that the rest of the regular official who had been instrumental in the league during its first year of operation.

Deprive Foreman
Of British Title

EDMONTON, April 8—The British Boxing Board of Control, Thursday, deprived Alf Foreman, Montreal fighter, of his British title because he had given up his right to compete in Great Britain for failure to comply with its regulations.

The board said that it had chosen Johnny Cuthbert and Ned Tarleton, to contend for the vacant title.

R. V. MacCosham Named President of Edmonton Lacrosse Association

ENTHUSIASM PREVAILS AT ANNUAL MEET

Box Lacrosse Only Will be Played Here This Season

Plans for the introduction of the sport of box lacrosse in Edmonton this summer were laid at the largely-attended and enthusiastic annual meeting of the Edmonton District Lacrosse Association held in the Y.M.C.A. last night.

Enthusiasm for the new sport ran high at the meeting, which saw the largest attendance ever in years and those in attendance elected a strong slate of officers to administer the association and introduce the game to this city.

Heading the executive that will attempt to put the game on a solid basis was R. V. MacCosham, who was re-elected to the post of president. The association was highly pleased with the work done during the preceding term of office and was re-elected by acclamation.

OTHER OFFICIALS

Going into office by acclamation were the other well-known lacrosse men. Joseph A. Clarke, who acted as chairman of the last night's meeting, was elected to the post of vice-president. The association was highly pleased with the work done during the preceding term of office and was re-elected by acclamation.

The new officers are:

Whoa! What Have We Here?

Here's food for thought. Maybe they're right and maybe they think the public is just naturally credulous, but what Madison Square Garden officials claim was the bill of fare for the 30 contestants in their fifty-third annual bicycle race sounds like a month's rations for a standing army. And here we have been thinking it was a bicycle race.

Battling Spirit of Burleigh Grimes May Put Chicago On Top

Baseball Critic Considers Veteran's Incentive to Win Invincible

By WILLIAM BRAUNSTEIN

It is to let you have, at bargain prices, this baseball observer's unsolicited opinion of how the Chicago Cubs in the National League will come steaming down the stretch to the pay-off window in late September. And here it is:

1. Burleigh Grimes

2. St. Louis Cardinals

3. Cincinnati Reds

4. Pittsburgh Pirates

5. I hate to say it, Bill.

THE VALUE OF GRIMES

In a three-horse race, between the two best teams in the league and this pennant campaign of 1932 promises to be, the team of Grimes can't be beat. The Grimes have won all of the victories he himself will win.

As I see it, when the Cubs got Grimes, he was the best pitcher in baseball—black Wilsons and a young pitcher, Bad Taylor, and their record fight for the pennant has been decided in favor of the burly Grimes to be the winner of the National League.

This is his last season, to be sure, in the infield and outfield (as well as National League team manager) that will be his last. But he has no desire to play safe and select the Cardinals to be his last team. The Grimes, I am sure, have given confidence to young fellows, like Harry and Horace, that this team never seemed to be beaten.

As I see it, the Cardinals and the Grimes will slip down below the Giants and the Reds, and the Cards will be the congruable Grimes to hold up the team in its final year.

SPIRIT OF A CHAMPION

The difference between the Cubs and Cardinals and Giants, as I see it, will be the spirit of the champion.

It is contingent, I am sure, that the Grimes will be the last team to win the pennant. But the Cards will be the last to give up.

As I see it, when the Cards get Grimes, he will be the best pitcher in baseball—black Wilsons and a young pitcher, Bad Taylor, and their record fight for the pennant has been decided in favor of the burly Grimes to be the winner of the National League.

This is his last season, to be sure, in the infield and outfield (as well as National League team manager) that will be his last. But he has no desire to play safe and select the Cardinals to be his last team. As I see it, the Cardinals and the Grimes will slip down below the Giants and the Reds, and the Cards will be the congruable Grimes to hold up the team in its final year.

NATIONAL FOURTEEN

If pitching is 80 per cent of a ball club, that is why the Grimes will be the best team in the league.

And the Grimes will be the best.

As I see it, when the Cards get Grimes, he will be the best pitcher in baseball—black Wilsons and a young pitcher, Bad Taylor, and their record fight for the pennant has been decided in favor of the burly Grimes to be the winner of the National League.

PARIS, April 8.—The French Olympic committee is having trouble getting off the ground in time for the Olympic games at Los Angeles. It is not clear whether the games will be held in July or August.

REGGAE'S FAME

OTTAWA, April 8.—On boulders steps atop the top of Mount Royal, in Montreal, Reggae, the Cuban, who looks to be the best four in the league, has been giving his name to the game. The Cuban exactly the incentive that the Cards will need to win the pennant this year—not to mention the fact that old Burleigh is ready to hang up his spikes.

Molar Profession Awaits Veteran Yankee Recruit

Little "Doc" Farrell Has Worries Should He Fail

Spokane, Wash. (UPI)—April 8.—Among the young men striving to catch on with big league teams this year, the one who has the most to live up to is Edward J. Farrell, 30, of the New York Yankees, for he has the same kind of record as the team he is joining.

And the young man is Edward J. Farrell, Jr., the son of Little "Doc" Farrell to the Yankees.

Farrell played 100 games at third base for the Angels. He played 50 games at second base and 100 games at first base for the Yankees. In all, he had 181 games for Los Angeles and 180 for the Yankees.

He is the son of Edward J. Farrell, Sr., the "Doc" of the Yankees.

These Polo Coats Are Wonderful "Buys"

Sweaty — New — A Very Special Purchase!

Chalk it up! A polo coat for only $12.95! The selection of styles, tailored in the downy fleeces of the polo cloth, includes the fashion successes of early Spring. There's the "wooden soldier" coat with gleaming metal buttons — the Mata Hari model with large notched collar decorated with rows of stitching — the Joan Crawford polo with its cinched-in belt and sleeve straps. All in a fine quality of the material, in camel or beige shades. Lined with crepe celanese. Sizes 14 to 20. SATURDAY

Frocks in Spring Prints

A Value Surprise for Early Shoppers, Saturday!

A frock that will answer smartly for many a Springtime need, beneath a coat now or for street wear later on. The fabric is a silken rayon mixture, printed with the distinction of design and color-harmony usually found in higher priced silk prints.

Select too, have a fair for fashion sellers worn in frocks at no less than a price. Touches of plain eggshell crepe in little violets and stripes — silver — in long or short sleeves — flares or pleats. Sizes 14 to 16. SATURDAY
